

FULL-TIME TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

September 2014-May 2015: Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, PA 19081

As a visiting assistant professor, I taught two sections of economic principles in the fall semester, and I taught two sections of principles and "Tracking the U.S. Economy" in the spring.

September 2007-May 2008 and Spring 2009: Columbia University, New York, NY 10027

As a lecturer of economics, I taught economic principles and a senior seminar titled, "Tracking the U.S. Economy."

July 2008-December 2008: U.S. Military Academy, West Point, NY 10996

As an assistant professor, I taught economic principles and served as an advisor to West Point's Fed Challenge team.

September 2006-May 2007: Ramapo College of New Jersey, Mahwah, NJ 07430

As a visiting assistant professor, I taught macroeconomics and microeconomics, and I served as an advisor to Ramapo's Fed Challenge team.

August 2004-May 2006: Shippensburg University, Shippensburg, PA 17257

As a visiting assistant professor, I taught macroeconomics, microeconomics, and managerial economics.

August 2002-June 2004: Quinnipiac University, Hamden, CT 06518

As a visiting assistant professor, I taught macroeconomics, microeconomics, and money and banking.

PART-TIME TEACHING EXPERIENCE

1988-Present: New York University, New York, NY 10003

As an adjunct faculty member, I have taught macroeconomics and "Tracking the U.S. Economy" in the MA program in economics in NYU's Graduate School of Arts and Science, and Firms and Markets and The Global Economy in the MBA program in NYU's Stern School of Business. I have also served as a thesis advisor to several MA students. I have also taught undergraduate courses in macro and micro principles and "Tracking the U.S. Economy" at NYU.

Other Teaching Experience:

In 2011-12, I had a half-time appointment at Vassar College, where I taught introductory macroeconomics and a macro elective course. I have also taught at American University, Baruch College, Columbia University (economic principles in the spring of 2012 and the summers of 2007, 2008, 2009, and 2012, and "Tracking the U.S. Economy" in the spring of 2007, the fall of 2008, and the fall of 2013), George Washington University, Hunter College, Stevens Institute of Technology, Swarthmore College (introductory macro-micro in the fall of 2006), and Yeshiva University. From 1997 to 2010, I taught "Issues in Macroeconomics" each year by satellite to students at Bilkent University in Ankara, Turkey.

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:

January 1993-August 2002: Federal Reserve Bank of New York, New York, NY 10045

As the director of the Bank's Communications Development group, I supervised the writing and editing of the Bank's educational materials. I also delivered talks about the work of the Fed to groups of visitors to the Bank.

February 1982-January 1993: AT&T, Basking Ridge, New Jersey 07920

From 1982 to 1986, I wrote a monthly report on the U.S. economy that was distributed throughout AT&T. From 1987 to 1993, I handled writing assignments designed to promote AT&T's quest for regulatory relief for its long-distance business.

1975-1982: Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230

Specializing in the labor market and consumer credit, I wrote on current economic conditions for the Survey of Current Business. I also conducted original labor market studies and published the results in professional journals.

EDUCATION:

BA in Political Science, Rutgers University (New Brunswick, NJ)
MA, PhD in Economics, New York University

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS:

"Lagging, Leading, and Coincident Indicators," International Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences, 2008.

"Students' Distrust of the Government's Economic Data," Economic Research Network Educator, 2004 (available at <http://ssrn.com/abstract=548042>) (with David Machlis).

"The Story of Monetary Policy" (cartoon-style booklet, revised edition), Federal Reserve Bank of New York, 2002.

"Understanding the Federal Budget," Federal Reserve Bank of New York, 2000.

"The Money Supply," Federal Reserve Bank of New York, 2000.

"The Story of Inflation," (cartoon-style booklet), Federal Reserve Bank of New York, 1998.

"Consumer Credit, 1960-80," Survey of Current Business, Volume 61 (February 1981).

"Labor Mobility in 1960-65 and 1970-75," Survey of Current Business, Volume 59 (January 1979).

"Earnings Changes in the 1974-75 Labor Market Decline," Survey of Current Business, Volume 57 (December 1977).

"Measuring Inequality With Extended Earnings Periods," Monthly Labor Review, Volume 100 (June 1977).

"The Employment Ratio," Survey of Current Business, Volume 56 (December 1976).

"Earnings Increases, 1969-73," Survey of Current Business, Volume 56 (April 1976).

"Upward Mobility of Low-Income Workers: A Study of Internal Labor Markets in New York City," Journal of Behavioral Economics, Volume 4 (Summer 1975).

"Upward Mobility in the Internal Labor Market," Industrial Relations, Volume 14 (May 1975).

PAPERS PRESENTED:

"Teaching About Macro Indicators in Eco I," 18th Annual Conference on Teaching Economics, Robert Morris University, Pittsburgh, PA, February 2007.

"Free Agency and the Consistency of Player Performance in Major League Baseball," Eastern Economic Association Meetings, New York, NY, March 2005 (with David Machlis).

"The Accounting Period, Earnings Inequality, and Intermittent Workers," American Statistical Association Meetings, Chicago, Illinois, August 1977.

"The Accounting Period and Earnings Inequality," American Economic Association Meetings, Atlantic City, New Jersey, September 1976.

"Work Experience and Perceived Disability," American Statistical Association Meetings, Boston, Massachusetts, August 1976.

"Upward Mobility of Low- and Middle-Income Workers in the Internal Labor Market," Southern Economic Association Meetings, Houston, Texas, November 1973.

"Upward Mobility in the Internal Labor Market: A Case Study in Three Industries in New York City," Western Economic Association Meetings, Claremont, California, August 1973.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLES:

"The Economy May Be Stronger Than You Think," The (Bergen) Record, January 21, 2008.

"Unmerited Distrust of Statistics?" The (Bergen) Record, October 5, 2003.

"The Unemployed May Tell You Recessions Are Undemocratic," Boston Herald, August 9, 2003.

"Greenspan and Fedspeak in Iraq," Providence Journal, August 5, 2003.

"Some Hope in Dismal Job Picture?" The (Bergen) Record, July 27, 2003.

"White House Ignores its Revenue Opportunities," New Haven Register, July 2, 2003.

"If the Government Got Creative," New York Post, May 30, 2003.

"Be Skeptical of Government's Jobless Figures," New Haven Register, February 19, 2003.

"Economic Headlines of 2003," The (Bergen) Record, December 29, 2002.

"Who Says it's a Recession?" The (Bergen) Record, November 8, 2002.