

Thomson Reuters ESG Fellow

New York, New York

At Thomson Reuters, we believe what we do matters. We are passionate about our work, inspired by the impact it has on our business and our customers. As a team, we believe in winning as one - collaborating to reach shared goals, and developing through challenging and meaningful experiences. With over 60,000 employees in more than 100 countries, we work flexibly across boundaries and realize innovations that help shape industries around the world. Making this happen is a dynamic, evolving process, and we count on each employee to be a catalyst in driving our performance - and their own.

As a global business, we rely on diversity of culture and thought to deliver on our goals. To ensure we can do that, we seek talented, qualified employees in all our operations around the world regardless of race, color, sex/gender, including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, disability, age, marital status, citizen status, veteran status, or any other protected classification under country or local law. Thomson Reuters is proud to be an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer providing a drug-free workplace.

Thomson Reuters provides professionals with the intelligence, technology and human expertise they need to find trusted answers. We enable professionals in the financial and risk, legal, tax and accounting, and media markets to make the decisions that matter most, all powered by the world's most trusted news organization.

Environment, Social and Governance Institute: The Corporate Responsibility & Inclusion team is looking to proactively respond to the growing interest in the Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) space from our TR teams as well as our clients. In order to ensure more strategic and efficient, cross-enterprise coordination and support on ESG issues, in September we will be launching the TR ESG Institute. The objectives of the ESG Institute are to: a) mainstream ESG issues into TR culture and b) amplify the TR Platform on ESG, social impact and UN Sustainable Development Goals. This will be accomplished through research, thought leadership, training, and regular communications to relevant staff. In addition, the ESG Institute will serve as a coordination point across all the TR products with an ESG aspect.

ESG Fellow: Thomson Reuters Corporate Responsibility & Inclusion team is seeking applicants for an Environment, Social and Governance (ESG) fellow through December 2017. The following tasks will be the primary focus of this work:

- Serve as part of a team to identify priority areas of focus and a 24-month workplan.
- Conduct research on ESG topics, trends, data and innovations. Primarily web based research.
- Develop Key Performance Indicators for the ESG Institute.

- Develop training curriculum for key staff segments (e.g. sales, data analysts, Global Business Directors.)
- Coordinate newsletters and communications to a network of Thomson Reuters employees.
- Update an online portal as required.
- Support ESG staff in the development of resources, including training material.
- Support creating and writing resources on sustainability topics (i.e. solar energy, climate resilience, etc.)
- Other tasks as assigned

Candidate Requirements:

- Currently enrolled in an MBA degree program.
- Educational background and understanding of climate and sustainability issues.
- Knowledge of basic office and database functions/programs.
- Excellent skills in research.
- Proven superior communication skills.
- Understanding of corporate social responsibility and sustainable development a plus.

To Apply: Please send a brief cover note explaining your interest in ESG as well as your resume to dawn.emling@thomsonreuters.com by September 13, 2017. We will reach out to successful candidates within two weeks. Unfortunately, we will only be able to notify those that proceed to interviews.
