Dear Applicant,

As you embark on the MBA admissions process, you are preparing for one of the most significant decisions you will make in your life. A top MBA program presents unique opportunities and can pave the way for great success in your future endeavors. We hope this viewbook has been able to answer most of your questions and has strengthened your interest in the Stern MBA. Although a publication can convey only a small measure of the intellectual excitement of Stern and the tremendous energy of our community, it’s the best way to learn about the program short of visiting.

As for the application, give yourself plenty of time to fill it out. It’s not as daunting as it may appear, but does require time and effort. We know that the process of applying for an MBA is an involved one, filled with both excitement and anxiety. Self-assessment and self-discovery are inherent in the decision to pursue an MBA, and we have designed this application to reflect this decision-making process. This is your opportunity to present your unique experiences, qualifications, and objectives to the Stern community.

What are we looking for? While each part of the application focuses on a different aspect of your experience, when read in its entirety, it should present a clear picture of you as an individual. Certainly we are interested in the basics of admissions, such as your undergraduate work and your work experience, but we want more than that – we want to know how the choices you have made have contributed to who you are today, where you want to be a few years from now, and why a Stern MBA is what you need to get there.

We take great care in our evaluation of each application, and we appreciate the time and energy you dedicate to the application process. You have started getting to know us, and we look forward to reading your application and getting to know you in return.

Best Regards,

MBA Admissions
General Admissions Qualifications

Our Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree is open to qualified persons who hold a four-year bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university in the United States or an equivalent degree in a foreign country.

Our admissions process is highly selective, and the Admissions Committee evaluates each piece of the application carefully, looking for excellence and potential in all areas. Information provided in your application allows us to evaluate the following in comparison to the overall applicant pool:

* Academic potential, as demonstrated by previous academic performance, including the level of success achieved and the quality of the program pursued. We do not require minimum cumulative grade point averages, and we do take into account the variance in grading systems around the world. No special undergraduate preparation is required for admission, but we highly recommend that students complete a semester of calculus, an introductory economics course, and an introductory accounting course before enrollment.

* General aptitude for business studies as measured by the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT). We do not require minimum GMAT scores.

* For international students whose first language is not English (or who have not received a degree from an English-speaking institution), mastery of written and spoken English as measured by the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). We do not require minimum TOEFL scores.

* Personal and professional maturity, character, career performance, leadership ability, communication skills, and career potential as evidenced in your essays, résumé and work history, recommendations, and history of community and extracurricular involvement. Typical applicants come from a variety of professional backgrounds, and most have between one and ten years of work experience.

You must take your GMAT and TOEFL before submitting your application to Stern.
The Application Process
Stern uses a rolling admissions process, evaluating applications in order of their receipt and completion. Therefore, it is to your advantage to have your application processed and evaluated by the Admissions Committee as early as possible. For this reason, it is important that you:
• submit a complete application with all supporting materials in one package.
• submit your application prior to the deadline dates.

If for any reason your application is incomplete when submitted, we will try to inform you of any missing materials. Application packets that are received or completed after the deadline are evaluated on a space-available basis.

Electronic Application Completion and Submission
You can obtain, complete, and/or submit the NYU Stern application online using the methods listed below.
• NYU Stern Online Application System
  www.stern.nyu.edu/mba/admissions/fulltime/apply/
  You can complete your application online via the Stern Web site. Please use the checklist on page 10 as a guide for sending in the required supplementary materials.
• NYU Stern Downloadable Application
  www.stern.nyu.edu/mba/admissions/fulltime/apply/
  Application forms can be printed out and filled in manually.
• Embark.com
  You can complete and submit your application online using Embark.com. If you submit your application via Embark.com, you should print a copy of the completed application and retain it for your records. Please use the checklist on page 10 as a guide for sending in the required supplementary materials.

E-mail Contact
Please establish an e-mail account that allows us to contact you regarding your application. This is the best way for us to notify you of missing application items, to let you know about Stern events in your area, and to invite you to interview. To protect your privacy, admission decisions are available through our Web site but are not sent out via e-mail.

Checking the Status of Your Application
http://applicant.stern.nyu.edu/statuscheck
Within ten working days of receipt of your application, we will confirm via e-mail that we have received it. This e-mail will also contain the information and password you need in order to access the MBA Application Status Check page of the MBA Admissions Web site. This page is available 24 hours a day and reflects the current status of your application. It is updated continuously, but it may take up to ten working days for information to be posted once we receive it.

Application Review
The Admissions Committee begins reviewing full-time applications on December 1 (the first deadline date) and reviews them in the order in which they are received. Applications received for the January 15 and March 15 deadlines are reviewed beginning on the deadline dates for which they were submitted. If your application is complete on the deadline date, you will receive a response (see Decision Notification below) from Stern by the date specified in the chart on page 3. If your application packet is incomplete on the deadline date (e.g., missing GMAT, TOEFL, or other items), a decision will be made six to eight weeks after we have received the missing items.

Decision Notification
You will be notified via e-mail when your status has been updated on the application status page of the MBA Admissions Web site. The decision notification methods are as follows:
• Invitation to interview — If you are invited to interview, you will receive the invitation and scheduling information via e-mail.
• Offer of a place on the waitlist — You will be notified via e-mail that your status has been updated on the application status page of the MBA Admissions Web site. You will then need to go to the Web site to view your decision and to respond online.
• Denial of admission — You will be notified via e-mail that your status has been updated on the application status page of the MBA Admissions Web site. You will then need to go to the Web site to view your decision.

Only acceptance packets are sent via regular mail in addition to being posted on the Web site. To protect your privacy, we will not release decisions via e-mail, telephone, or fax.

Interviews
After reviewing your application, the Admissions Committee may request an interview. An interview is available by invitation only. The interview is evaluative and provides the Admissions Committee with more information on your qualifications and career goals. We recommend that applicants invited to interview do so at Stern, using the visit to learn more about Stern by attending a tour and information session, visiting a class, and meeting current students.

Stern conducts some off-site interviews at selected sites around the world. To be considered for off-site interviews, you should apply by December 1. If you are then invited to interview but are not able to come to Stern, you may ask to be considered for an off-site interview.
Change of Name and/or Address

If your name, e-mail, or street address changes during the application and admissions process, please notify us immediately in writing so that you do not miss any important correspondence. You can update your address via the application status page on the MBA Admissions Web site or by sending a fax or letter to MBA Admissions.

Contacting the Chairperson of the Admissions Committee

Correspondence directed to the Chairperson of the Admissions Committee can be sent to the following address:

New York University
Stern School of Business
MBA Admissions
Admissions Committee Chairperson
44 West Fourth Street, Suite 10-160
New York, NY 10012-1126
Fax: (212) 995-4231
E-mail: admchair@stern.nyu.edu

Joint Degree Programs

If you are applying to a joint degree program offered between Stern and another division of New York University, please see the MBA Admissions Web site for specific qualifications for each program. Applicants must be granted admission to both programs separately.

Enrollment Information

Admitted students must submit a non-refundable enrollment deposit of U.S. $1,000 by the deadline specified in your offer of admission to secure a place in the MBA program. Deposit extensions are not granted for any reason. An offer of admission is valid only for the term for which the offer is made.

Change in Status: Full-time or Part-time

Because of the integrated nature of the MBA program, you should apply for the program (full-time or part-time) in which you plan to enroll. However, if circumstances require you to change your status, you should submit a written request to the Admissions Committee Chairperson. The Admissions Committee will consider your request on a space-available basis only.

You may submit only one application per term, meaning that you cannot apply to both the full-time and part-time program for the same term.

Deferral of Admission

The Stern School will not defer admission to the program, so please apply for the term in which you intend to begin the program.

Transfer Policy

The Stern School does not accept transfer credits. If you have already earned an MBA from another college or university within the U.S., you are not eligible for admission to the MBA program at the Stern School. For students enrolled in another NYU division prior to admission to Stern, all 60 credits of the MBA program must be completed after admission to the Stern School. Unless enrolled in an official joint-degree program, students are not allowed to pursue two degrees at New York University simultaneously.

Information for Previous Applicants

Previously Denied Applicants

Stern keeps transcripts on file for one year, but you must submit all other application materials. Refer to the application deadlines on page 3 to determine if you must update your GMAT or TOEFL scores for the new application period.

Previously Admitted Applicants

If you were offered admission to the Stern School within the last year but were unable to enter, you should contact the Admissions Committee Chairperson in writing to request an abbreviated application. Also, please refer to the application deadlines on page 3 to determine if you must update your GMAT or TOEFL scores for the new application period. If you were offered admission to the Stern School more than one year ago but were unable to enter, you must reapply using the standard application.

Formerly Enrolled Students

Students who were previously enrolled in the Stern MBA program should contact:

Stern School of Business
MBA Academic Advising
44 West Fourth Street, Suite 10-160
New York, NY 10012-1126

Fax: (212) 995-4231
E-mail: advising@stern.nyu.edu
Application Deadline

International applicants are encouraged to apply by the December 1 deadline in order to facilitate visa arrangements and to be considered for the limited number of off-site interviews. When planning the time needed to complete the application, you should take into consideration the amount of time needed to obtain the official documents from your undergraduate institution and the English translations (regardless of where you are living now). The Admissions Committee will not review your application without the official transcripts and English translations.

Accepted Degrees

Applicants to Stern should have the equivalent of a four-year U.S. bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university. Specific degree information listed by country is available on the MBA Admissions Web site.

Diplomas/Degree Conferrals

All transcripts from institutions outside the U.S. must be accompanied by a photocopy of the diploma and/or degree conferral.

Transcripts from Institutions Outside the U.S.

All academic transcripts must be original documents bearing the institutional seal and the signature of the institution’s registrar. If an institution cannot issue a transcript to you, you must submit a letter (in a sealed envelope) from the institution stating its policy. If you cannot obtain transcripts directly from the institution and possess an original transcript, you may submit verified copies from the embassy or consulate of the institution’s country.

Certifications by a Notary Public are not acceptable. Please do not submit the original copy of an academic transcript that cannot be replaced. Each transcript should contain a list of courses taken, grades or marks earned, name of degree earned (if any), and date of degree conferral.

Non-English Transcripts

If your original transcript is not in English, you are required to submit both the official transcript and its English translation in the same sealed envelope. If the institution you attended does not provide an English translation with the official transcript, you must obtain a certified English translation through a translating service and submit it in a sealed envelope, endorsed across the seal. Stern does not recommend any translating services, and certifications by a Notary Public are not acceptable.

Funding

While limited scholarship money and private bank loans are available, in order to obtain a visa, international candidates must be prepared to pay the total cost of attending Stern, including tuition, fees, and room and board. The sources of your educational funding must be provided on Data Form 4. Documentation of these sources does not need to be provided until you have been admitted and are in the process of enrolling at Stern.

Interviews

Stern conducts a limited number of interviews at selected sites around the world. Interviews are available by invitation only and are limited in number. If you would like to be considered for an off-site interview, you should apply by December 1. If you are then invited to interview and are unable to come to New York, you may ask to be considered for an off-site interview. In rare cases, alumni interviews can be conducted in some locations.

TOEFL

All applicants whose native language is not English and who have not received a university degree in an English-speaking country must take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). For applicants from countries where English may not be the primary spoken language but is the primary language used in education, such as India and Singapore, the TOEFL is strongly recommended but not required.
Investing in Your Future

The NYU Stern MBA is a significant investment in your future and requires a serious commitment of time and funding. As our graduates will tell you, it is likely to be one of the best investments you ever make. The Stern School of Business offers a comprehensive financial aid program including scholarships, fellowships, graduate assistantships, and student loans to full-time applicants who qualify.

Scholarships and Fellowships

To be considered for scholarships and fellowships, full-time applicants must submit a completed application for admission by December 1. If you meet this deadline, we will automatically consider you for all available awards. The selection process is highly competitive, and several factors determine these awards, including merit relative to other applicants and financial resources available to Stern. Stern and private donors provide the funds for these awards, and individual awards vary. About thirty percent of all full-time students receive some form of this funding. Additional teaching fellowships and graduate assistantships are available during the second year of the MBA program.

Consortium for Graduate Study in Management

Stern is a member of the Consortium for Graduate Study in Management, a fourteen university alliance working to facilitate the entry of underrepresented minorities into managerial positions in business. The Consortium provides tuition fellowships as well as networking and career development opportunities to African American, Hispanic American, and Native American candidates pursuing an MBA full-time.

We strongly recommend that underrepresented minorities apply for admission to Stern and for Consortium Fellowship consideration using the Consortium’s application rather than the Stern application. Applicants who apply using the Consortium application follow the same evaluation process as applicants who apply directly to Stern. For more information, contact:

Student Loans

If you need assistance in financing your graduate school education, student loans are a primary source of aid. Federal and private loan programs are available to assist you.

Federal Loans

www.fafsa.ed.gov

If you are a U.S. citizen or U.S. permanent resident, you should follow these instructions:

• You must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) online at the Web site listed above. We recommend that you complete the FAFSA at the same time that you are submitting your application for admission. List Stern as New York University with Title IV code 002785.

• Once you are admitted to the program, Stern then receives your FAFSA information and reviews it for accuracy and completeness. We may request more information from you.

• Upon review of your FAFSA results and your admission to Stern, Stern Financial Aid sends you an award notice that lists your financial aid eligibility and includes the next steps you need to take to secure the loan funds.

• You must take the additional steps listed in your award notice to secure the loan funds.

Private Loans

If you are a U.S. citizen or U.S. permanent resident, you can apply for a private loan without a co-signer if you meet the lender’s credit criteria. Stern is pleased to offer two exciting loan programs to international students to assist in financing graduate work while at NYU. If you are an international student, you may need a U.S. citizen or U.S. permanent resident as a co-signer, and both you and your co-signer must meet the lender’s credit criteria.

Specific information on loan programs becomes available in December for the following academic year. For more information, contact:

Class of 2004 Student Budget (for the nine-month academic year)

Tuition & Fees $ 33,016
Living Expenses $ 22,860

This budget is for students entering in the fall of 2002, so you should expect incremental increases in tuition and fees for each following year, typically 3-5%. Budgets are determined by New York University. The estimate is conservative; your actual costs will vary depending on your lifestyle.
General Information

Please read and follow all instructions carefully and type or clearly print your responses to all questions on the application forms. Answer all questions and put “none” or “N.A.” (Not Applicable) where appropriate. After you have gathered all materials and supporting documents, including transcripts and recommendations in sealed envelopes, submit the completed application in the large mailing envelope provided. All application credentials become part of the permanent records of the Stern School of Business and cannot be duplicated or returned for any reason. We suggest that you retain copies of all application forms and essays submitted.

Your application information should be submitted in the order listed on the appropriate checklist on page 10.

GMAT

Before submitting your application to Stern, you must take the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) administered by the Educational Testing Service (ETS) and have the results sent to Stern. We encourage you to take the GMAT at your earliest possible convenience. If you have taken the test more than once, the Admissions Committee will consider the highest score. GMAT scores cannot be more than five years old. Refer to the deadlines indicated on page 3 for valid dates. You should ask ETS to send your score directly to the Stern School of Business when you register for the test. The ETS reporting code for the Stern School is 2582. Please include a photocopy of your test score report in your application packet.
