TRADE BOOKS

Since attaining tenure in 2016, I have tackled two books on charged topics for general audiences. My books are deeply grounded in scholarship while using accessible language, voice, and examples. By weaving together science and stories, I aim to help practitioners understand and use research conducted by me and many others. I see my books (and related talks, newsletters, etc) as a hybrid of elements of research (dissemination), teaching (outside the Stern walls), and service (extensive exposure/branding for the Management department and Stern in a wide variety of influential spaces). I receive evidence of the quality, significance, and impact of my work as a book author daily and consider my success in this area to be my most important and unique contribution as an academic.

Chugh, D. (2022). A More Just Future: Psychological Tools for Reckoning with Our Past and Driving Social Change. New York: Simon and Schuster / Atria Books.

- I signed the contract for this book with Simon and Schuster in 2019. Convincing the publishing industry that this topic was going to be very relevant, very soon was an important aspect of the “pitching” process. Of course, in 2020, the topic of reckoning with the past became a loud, national dialogue. Listening to and shaping the national conversation is central to this kind of general audience work.
- Endorsed by Angela Duckworth, Kenji Yoshino, Michael Bungay Stanier, and Uché Blackstock

Chugh, D. (2018). The Person You Mean To Be: How Good People Fight Bias. New York: HarperCollins / Harper Business books.

- Endorsed by Billie Jean King, Angela Duckworth, Carol Dweck, Kenji Yoshino, David Thomas, Adam Grant, and Liz Wiseman.
- Selected as the Common Read for incoming first year students at Fordham University’s Gabelli School of Business (undergraduate) (2021 and 2022), Vanderbilt University (2020) and Quincy College (2020)
- Book or related material are being used in the:
 - Curricula/syllabi/other usage at 80+ colleges/universities
 - Parent, faculty, and /or staff development in at least 30 elementary, middle, and high schools
 - Corporate reading clubs and other learning communities such as Visa, John Deere, MPG Consulting, JP Morgan, Kutak Rock LLP Law Firm, and Colgate Palmolive
 - Important: I only know of a fraction of actual use, gathered in idiosyncratic ways, as most faculty and companies do not notify me when using my work or post on the internet. Based on information I have gleaned, here is a listing of how my work is being used.
- Translated into Korean
- Foreword written by Google’s former "Chief People Officer" Laszlo Bock
- #1 bestseller in Business Ethics / #2 bestseller in HR for prolonged period on Amazon.com
- The Person You Mean to Be finds hundreds of new readers every month, even more than three years after its release. Most books do not find any readers, and of those that do, they essentially zero out within months of release.
- Informal, gushing praise has come in from many readers, including influential people such as Anita Hill, Elizabeth Warren, Tony award winning producer and creators of Dear Evan Hansen Stacey Mindich and colleagues, members of the cast and creative team of Hamilton and In the Heights, and many others. If useful, excerpts from select fan mail, reviews, social media posts and more can be compiled upon request.
- Numerous other honors, as listed under Awards, Honors, and Grants

MONTHLY COLUMNS AND NEWSLETTERS

- Dear Good People newsletter (2020-present): Each Stern-branded issue addresses an issue from the zeitgeist and addresses it with a behavioral lens and informal voice. Opt-in subscriptions only. Approx 8000 current subscribers (growing every month), with email "open rates" (averaging 45%) consistently beating industry standards, indicating genuine reader interest in the work even with the challenges of getting past spam filters. Issues are often forwarded and shared on social media.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

NYU Stern School of Business, MBA Program

- Developing Managerial Skills ("MSkills") (2016-present)
- Leadership in Organizations ("LiO") (2010-2019)
 - Core course coordinator (2014-2016)
- Collaboration, Conflict, and Negotiation ("CCN") (2007-2015)

NYU Prison Education Program

- Leadership Skills: taught at Wallkill Correctional Facility (medium/high security men's prison) (2016-2017).
- Currently leading book club which meets three times per year (on hold during pandemic) in which the students read the selected book as an extracurricular activity and then the author and I join them for a book discussion (I recruit authors to make the trip upstate for this full day commitment). Past selections and authors listed under NYU Service.
- Working with Program leadership team to develop an "inside / outside" course or book club for 2022 or 2023. Goal is to create dialogue between traditional and incarcerated students.

BOOK ENDORSEMENTS (Partial Listing)

The non-fiction book space is crowded and endorsements from respected social scientists and authors are highly sought after for the amazon listing and book jacket. These are an important quality indicator to reviewers such as The New York Times, readers, and other authors. I am frequently asked to offer such endorsements. Practices vary but mine is that I do at least a skim of the entire book before offering my endorsement, so this is a significant time commitment. I believe it is an important contribution to the dissemination of science and support of other (mostly) academic authors.
